of apprenticeship.

(2) The apprenticeship training shall be deemed to have commenced on the date on which the contract of apprenticeship has been entered into under sub-section (1).

(3) Every contract of apprenticeship may contain such terms and conditions as may be agreed to by the parties to the contract:

Provided that no such term or condition shall be inconsistent with any provision of this Act or any rule made thereunder.

(4) Every contract of apprenticeship entered into under sub-section (1) shall be sent by the employer within such period as may be prescribed to the Apprenticeship Adviser for registration.

(5) The Apprenticeship Adviser shall not register a contract of apprenticeship unless he is satisfied that the person described as an apprentice in the contract is qualified under this Act for being engaged as an apprentice to undergo apprenticeship training in the designated trade specified in the contract.

(6) Where the Central Government, after consulting the Central Apprenticeship Council, makes any rule varying the terms and conditions of apprenticeship training of any category of apprentices undergoing such training, then, the terms and conditions of every contract of apprenticeship relating to that category of apprentices and subsisting immediately before the making of such rule shall be deemed to have been modified accordingly.”.

“(aa) in the case of trade apprentices who, having undergone institutional training in a school or other institution affiliated to or recognised by a Board or State Council of Technical Education or any other authority which the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette specify in this behalf, have passed the trade tests conducted by that Board or State Council or authority, the period of apprenticeship training shall be such as may be prescribed;”;

(iii) in clause (b), for the word “apprentices”, the words “trade apprentices” shall be substituted;

(iv) after clause (b), the following clause shall be inserted, namely:—

“(c) in the case of graduate or technician apprentices, the period of apprenticeship training shall be such as may be prescribed.”.

Amendment of section 8.

9. In section 8 of the principal Act,—

(i) for sub-sections (1), (2) and (3), the following sub-sections shall be substituted, namely:—

‘(1) The Central Government shall, after consulting the Central Apprenticeship Council, by order notified in the Official Gazette, determine for each designated trade the ratio of trade apprentices to workers other than unskilled workers in that trade:

Provided that nothing contained in this sub-section shall be deemed to prevent any employer from engaging a number of trade apprentices in excess of the ratio determined under this sub-section.

(2) In determining the ratio under sub-section (1), the Central Government shall have regard to the facilities available for apprenticeship training under this Act in the designated trade concerned as well as to the facilities that may have to be made available by an employer for the training of graduate or technician apprentices, if any, in pursuance of any notice issued to him under sub-section (3A) by the Central Apprenticeship Adviser or such other person as is referred to in that sub-section.

(3) The Apprenticeship Adviser may, by notice in writing, require an employer to engage such number of trade apprentices within the ratio determined by the Central Government for any designated trade in his establishment, to undergo apprenticeship training in that trade and the employer shall comply with such requisition:

Provided that in making any requisition under this sub-section, the Apprenticeship Adviser shall have regard to the facilities actually available in the establishment concerned.

(3A) The Central Apprenticeship Adviser or any other person not below the rank of an Assistant Apprenticeship Adviser authorised by the Central Apprenticeship Adviser in writing in this behalf shall, having regard to,—

(i) the number of managerial persons (including technical and supervisory persons) employed in a designated trade;

(ii) the number of management trainees engaged in the establishment;

(iii) the totality of the training facilities available in a designated trade; and

(iv) such other factors as he may consider fit in the circumstances of the case, by notice in writing, require an employer to impart training to such number of graduate or technician apprentices in such trade in his establishment as may be specified in such notice and the employer shall comply with such requisition.

Explanation.—In this sub-section the expression “management trainee” means a person who is engaged by an employer for undergoing a course of training in the establishment of the employer (not being apprenticeship training under this Act) subject to the condition that on successful completion of such training, such person shall be employed by the employer on a regular basis.;

(ii) in sub-section (5), after the words “in excess of the ratio determined by the Central Government”, the words, brackets, figure and letter “or in excess of the number specified in a notice issued under sub-section (3A)” shall be inserted.

10. In section 9 of the principal Act,—

(i) in sub-section (2),—

(a) in the opening paragraph, for the words “The Central Apprenticeship Adviser”, the words “The Central Apprenticeship Adviser or any other person not below the rank of an Assistant Apprenticeship Adviser authorised by the Central Apprenticeship Adviser in writing in this behalf” shall be substituted;

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The question of undertaking legislation for the training of graduate engineers and diploma holders with a view to giving them practical training under factory conditions thereby improving their employment potential and solving the immediate unemployment problem has been under the consideration of the Government for some time past. At present a voluntary scheme of training-in-industry for such personnel is being administered by the Central Government.

2. In the context of the growing unemployment among the engineers, it is proposed, in consultation with the State Governments, concerned Ministries and Departments, the Planning Commission, the Employers' and Workers' Organisations, to suitably amend the Apprentices Act, 1961 (52 of 1961) to cover graduate engineers and diploma holders and to ensure proper regulation and control of training by fully utilising the facilities available for training in accordance with the programmes, standards and syllabi drawn up by expert bodies. It is also proposed to provide for reservation of training places for the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes in every designated trade.

3. Opportunity is also being taken to remove certain practical difficulties experienced in the working of the Act.

4. The present Bill is intended to achieve the above objectives.

R. K. KHADILKAR.

NEW DELHI;
The 13th September, 1972.

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM

Clause 10 viii) (c) of the Bill seeks to insert a new clause (c) in sub-section (8) of section 9 of the Act. The new clause (c) provides inter alia that the cost of stipend in connection with the practical training imparted to graduate or technician apprentices shall be borne by the Central Government and the employer in equal shares up to such limit as may be laid down by the Central Government and beyond that limit, by the employer alone.

2. Clause 18 (i) of the Bill seeks to amend sub-section (2) of section 24 of the Act so as to provide for the appointment of a Vice-Chairman to the Central Apprenticeship Council. The same clause seeks to amend sub-section (2) (c) of that section so as to include persons having special knowledge and experience of matters relating to technical education also in the Central Apprenticeship Council.

3. Clause 18 (iii) of the Bill seeks to amend sub-section (6) of section 24 of the Act so as to include therein the Vice-Chairman of the Central Apprenticeship Council and the State Apprenticeship Council in the matter of payment of fees and allowances.

4. Clause 19 of the Bill seeks to amend sub-section (1) of section 27 of the Act with a view to providing for the appointment of Additional, Joint and Regional Apprenticeship Advisers also.

5. As per the cost of stipend for training [vide clause 10 (viii) (c)], the present level of expenditure incurred by the Central Government for the scheme of practical training which is being run on purely voluntary basis is about Rs. 232 lakhs per year. This expenditure corresponds to the provision for practical training facilities for about 10,000 engineering graduates and diploma holders each year. Maintaining the expenditure at the same level after the proposed legislation has come into force, the provision for practical training will cover 20,000 graduates and diploma holders each year, because the intention is to share the cost of stipends equally between the Central Government and the employer. As such, no additional expenditure is likely to be incurred on account of the sharing of stipend between the Central Government and the employers. However, any further increase "towards this expenditure would depend upon the number of additional training places secured and utilised.

6. Regarding the appointment of a Vice-Chairman to the Central Apprenticeship Council [Vide clause 18(i)], the intention is to appoint the Minister of Education in the Central Government as the Vice-Chairman of that Council. No additional expenditure towards payment of travelling and daily allowances to the Vice-Chairman is expected to be incurred. However, towards the travelling and daily allowances of the additional persons to be appointed to the Central Apprenticeship Council it is expected that an amount of Rs. 6,000 per year may have to be spent.

7. The present administrative expenditure on the implementation of the scheme is about 8.2 lakhs each year. This is expected to increase to Rs. 14 lakhs a year because of the increase in the number of training places and adequate organisational and supervisory arrangements which need to be made to fulfil the aims and objects of training under the proposed legislation.

8. For Union territories, no additional expenditure is expected to be incurred, because the expenditure on the share of stipends, the travelling and daily allowances of the persons additionally to be appointed to the Central Apprenticeship Council and the stream-lining of the organisational set-up will be borne entirely by the Central Government.

9. There will be no non-recurring expenditure for buildings.

MEMORANDUM REGARDING DELEGATED LEGISLATION

Clause 4 of the Bill seeks to amend section 2 of the principal Act. Under the proposed sub-clauses (aa), (j) and (q) of section 2, the Central Government is being empowered to make rules regarding the terms and conditions of apprenticeship training, the subject field of engineering or technology in which graduates or technician apprentices have to undergo apprenticeship training and the trade or occupation in which a trade apprentice has to undergo apprenticeship training.

Clause 6 of the Bill seeks to insert a new section 3A in the principal Act. Under sub-section (2) of the new section, the Central Government is being empowered to make rules fixing the number of training places to be reserved for the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes.

Clause 7 of the Bill seeks to substitute a new section for section 4 of the principal Act. Sub-section (4) of the new section empowers the Central Government to make rules regarding the period within which the contract of apprenticeship should be furnished by the employer to the Apprenticeship Adviser for registration.

Clause 8 of the Bill seeks to amend section 6 of the principal Act. The new sub-clauses (aa) and (c) of section 6 empower the Central Government to make rules specifying the period of apprenticeship training with regard to certain categories of apprentices.

Clause 11(iii) of the Bill seeks to substitute sub-section (4) of section 10 of the principal Act empowering the Central Government to make rules reducing or modifying the scale of related instruction in relation to certain trade apprentices.

Clause 13 of the Bill seeks to amend section 12 of the principal Act. Under the amendment proposed to clause (b) of this section, the Central Government is being empowered to make rules relating to the qualifications which are necessary for a person to be incharge of the training of apprentices, in cases where the employer himself is not qualified in the trade.

Clause 13 of the Bill seeks to amend section 12 of the principal Act. Clause (d) of the new sub-section (2) of that section empowers the Central Government to prescribe by rules the records of work to be maintained by graduate or technician apprentices.

The aforesaid matters with respect to which the Central Government is being empowered to make rules are matters of detail and can hardly be provided in the Bill. The delegation of legislative power is, therefore, of a normal character.
